

Paradise Valley Conservation Area

Parking

Paradise Valley Conservation Area: This woodland park is not surprisingly in Woodinville (23210 Paradise Lk Rd). It consists of a nice combination of open glades, forested areas, and what could almost be termed wetlands. The park is enough on the outskirts of the metropolitan area that it is common to spot deer fox or other wildlife on your walk. There is about five miles of trails here in a nice network allowing longer or shorter loops depending on your interest or the time available. There is only a small parking lot here but it seems to be plenty for the small numbers that visit this park. (Go Outside! 1World Outing Club)
