1/20-21 LEAVENWORTH LANGLAUFEN TRIP

Leavenworth is just a great place to visit as long as you aren't there during one of the big festivals. The Bavarian theme of the town's architecture is unique in our state, (Langlaufen is German for XC skiing). Upon exiting Tumwater Canyon at the very foot of the Cascades the town site reminds me of trips we have taken to the mountains of Germany or Switzerland. The ski opportunities here include two track systems, the hatchery and the golf course which make a nice half day ski or a good night ski on a clear starry night. A third compact trail system is at the downhill ski area north of town. We stopped to ski here a few years ago in the later spring but there was too little snow; but it looked like a nice venue. The best tour skiing is probably the Icicle Creek road, a wonderful tour with rock walls covered with icicles, snow covered ridge tops on either side of the route, and the tumbling waters of the creek with its waterfalls and sparkling, ice covered vegetation sparkling through its temporary ice casing. Since Leavenworth is so close to Seattle it is almost a day trip away, but also almost too close and limited track mileage for a multiday so it isn't often we make it over here to stay. So this ML Kings day we are heading east for an economical two day, overnight trip to see all that Leavenworth has to offer. Did I mention they have a German bakery for fresh baked goods! Provided: transit, lodging, maps. Date 1/20-21 Cost $196
