1/6-8 SUN MOUNTAIN SKI & SNOWSHOE TRIP

We used to go to this exclusive four star lodge on a regular basis but always in the spring when rates are usually lower and the sun is always out. A few years back we came over to the valley for President's Day weekend but weren't able to stay at the "lodge on the hill". The holiday skiing was quite good in the valley, in fact the Methow Valley in 2015, a low snow year, had about 90% of its normal snowpack. When we were there in January 2014 we had deep powder snow like we rarely see on this drier side of the Cascades. So we are going to go in early January again this year and look forward to another epic trip to the sunnier side of the mountains. The Sun Mountain trails consist of a total of 50 kilometers of tracks for skiers, and another 20 kilometers are marked and maintained for snow-shoers. There is also a shelter tucked away in a meadow at the edge of the trail network, that makes a great place to stop for a sack lunch. The trails are pretty quiet just after the Christmas rush and it is a nice time to ski. Then following a hard day of ski touring there is the remarkable Sun Mountain Lodge itself, where we can enjoy the many amenities of the resort, a lounge overlooking the Methow Valley, a reading room, and small boutique clothing shop. The hot pool will be open, and as always the large King Arthur fireplace will be crackling. A full service rental shop offers rental skis and snowshoes, lessons by fully certified instructors, and always friendly advice on locating the best trails. This trip is a great opportunity to test out some of the new demo gear just developed for the upcoming season! Provided: transit, lodging, Dates 1/6-8 Cost $407
